MASCARADE

The title is really the French form for Masquerade. Those who have found the real spirit in pastimes, that was taking a personality out of its greatest brilliancy or refinement, will enjoy this new masquerade of Mr. Borowick's genius. The composer of the famous Admission has now a picture of dally and merriment with humor, balance, beauty, and all that goes to make a better musical score.

BERT R. ANTHONY, Op. 208

IN ARCADIA

Mr. Brown's (piano) gifts were never better indicated than in this graceful waltz, played with a fine balance of the tender and the dancing phases. Grade 4.

FRAGMENT FROM CONCERTO IN G MINOR

One hundred and eighty years have passed since this legend and drollyly plaintive work first appeared. Ferdinand Hiller, with all his modernist piano playing, "It was to him what flying was to a bird. He was wonder why a bird flies." This sparkling and beautiful piece must be played with the fingers, which must fly over the keys with the unconscious effect of a bird.

F. MENDELSSOHN

Grade 7. Molto allegro 11 3/4, 1-104

First system of the musical score for the Fragment from Concerto in G Minor. The score is written for piano and includes various dynamics and expressive markings.

Second system of the musical score, continuing the Fragment from Concerto in G Minor. The score includes various dynamics and expressive markings.

1. Chlorophyll a (Chl a) is the primary photosynthetic pigment in most plants and algae. It is a green pigment that absorbs light energy in the blue and red regions of the visible spectrum. Chl a is essential for the light-dependent reactions of photosynthesis, where it converts light energy into chemical energy in the form of ATP and NADPH.
